Do you have a child with Autism Spectrum Disorder?

As a way of providing support and advice to families and introducing you to the IHC Library, we would like to give you a free book relevant to your child's needs.

IHC advocates for all New Zealanders with an intellectual disability. We are committed to providing services that make a difference in people's lives including making sure people have the support and information they need.

We give all New Zealand families with a child or family member with an intellectual disability (up to 24 years) a free book.

To get the book please fill out the details on the form.

The IHC Library offers free access to a wide range of books, journal articles, CDs and DVDs on all aspects of intellectual disability.
